One extra good wagon. One good surrey and double harness. All my Household and kitchen furniture.

Also one Extra Good Gimball Organ. Many other things too numerous to mention.

It is hoped that when the town clock is started that some one will be put in charge who understands its mechanism. It is a piece of property that cost this county $1,000, and it should have the best of care. It was installed for the convenience of the town and county, as people living six and eight miles from Columbia can hear it strike and keep up with the time. When it is out of commission it is missed more than any thing else in the county.

Our Holiday line is complete, and our prices very reasonable. R. L. Hill.

May Become An Aviation Station.

The pilot and also the manager of the airplane that visited Columbia last Sunday week, lighting in a field of Mr. Thiden Wilcox, were perfectly delighted with their stop here, and especially the ground upon which they lit. In leaving they told Mr. Wilcox, in, to hold the field, that they would recommend it to the government for a permanent aviation station for this section of country, and also for a filling station. They also said that they were looking out for a station and this was the best place they had struck. They further said to Mr. Wilcox that he would be sure to hear about his ultimate recovery.

Do you want "Kryptok" Glasses? If so, we can supply them on short notice. R. L. Hill.

Good Farm Changes Hands.

Last Thursday afternoon M. O. Stevenson, who lives two and a half miles out of town, on the Stanford pike, sold his farm containing about one hundred acres, to Elsey Young, for fifteen thousand dollars, five thousand down and the remainder the first day of February, at which time Mr. Stevenson will give possession. This leaves Mr. Stevenson sixty acres adjoining the main farm. It is hoped that Mr. Stevenson is not calculating on removing from Adair County, as he is a first class citizen and one of the best farmers in all this section.

Christmas will be here in a few days and every thing indicates that the day we celebrate as the birth of our Savior, will not be desecrated, as John Barleycorn has gone out of business. If the lid was off thousands of dollars would be spent for ardent spirits, and the most of that amount by men who need the money for their families.

Fancy, Hand painted and Imported China. Hill's Drug Store.

Mr. Lucian Blair and family left Adair last Thursday for Macomb, Ill., their future home. Mr. Blair is a good citizen and has an excellent family. We take pleasure in commending them to the good people of their new home.

Both the Greensburg and Campbellsville Loose Leaf Houses had fine openings. Buyers were present from Louisville and Cincinnati and tobacco sold high, especially Burley. Good dark brought satisfactory prices.

Tobacco has been rapidly moving for the past ten days from Adair county to the loose leaf houses.

Emergency Call.

At once every lover of Humanity is urged to respond to the call to keep alive the starving women and children of Armenia. I was in Louisville last week at the "Near East Relief" Conference. We heard Mr. C. V. Vickery, secretary, of the work in the U. S., whose office is in New York, also Gen. Mesrop Newton Azgabetian, formerly of the Imperial Russian Army, a native Armenian and Mr. J. O. Arroll a "Y" man from Armenia, all of whom gave appalling accounts of conditions still existing there. Relief without delay from the U. S. is all that can save 200,000 of them. A Christmas emergency call is being made all over the U. S. Respond at once please friends! Through every Sunday school in the county, every church, every Day-school Miss Jennie Garnett is the county treasurer. Get your offering to her without fail, this will help to pay for two ship loads now on the way. Save a life. B. T. Watson. Chairman.

For Sale.

Good as new Cheese knife also Tobacco knife. Will sell cheap. Mattie S. Leach. Roy, Ky.

Runs Under Same Management.

A few days ago Mr. Elsey Young and Col. L. T. Neat, who recently purchased The New Merchant Hotel building at Campbellsville, sold the same to J. S. Breeding and Mr. Ray Conover, this place. We learn the price paid was $1,500 in advance of the amount Young & Neat paid, $16,000. There will be no change in the management of the hotel. The new owners have rented it to Mr. Walter Hoskins, who has been in charge for a number of years. The new owners bought it as an investment, and its our judgment they made a deal that will prove profitable.

Serious Operation.

Mr. J. R. Garnett, whose serious affliction has been frequently mentioned in The News, was operated on for appendicitis, in Elizabeth Infirmary, Lebanon, last Monday afternoon. Dr. McChord was the operating surgeon. Dr. W. F. Cartwright, this place, was present, and he states that the operation was skillfully performed, but it was very serious, attended with a great deal of danger. Mr. Garnett stood the operation bravely. A great deal of puss had formed below the appendix, and that being removed, the chances for the patients recovery is much brighter, though at this writing four days after the operation, Mr. Garnett is a very sick man, but nothing will be left undone to bring about his ultimate recovery.

Died Near Knifley.

Mr. Richard Humphress, a brother of Mrs. H. B. Ingram, this place, died at his home, near Knifley, last Wednesday. He was quite an aged man and was one of Adair's best citizens. He leaves a wife and a number of sons and daughters.

"If it isn't an Eastman, it isn't a Kodak." If it is a "Kodak" it is an Eastman. We have a full line of "Kodak" and Supplies. R. L. Hill.

The Anderson Smith farm lying two miles from Columbia, sold at his death for $2,500. Since that sale the entire tract has been cut into smaller farms and sold up to now the original boundary has brought $30,000.

Lost, a child's cape skin glove, between the Baptist church and the home of Dr. H. W. Depp's office. A reward will be paid.

OIL INTEREST.

Mr. D. P. Weeks and Mr. E. T. Kemper, of Danville, who are engaged in operating for oil, were in Columbia several days of last week with the view of organizing a local company for the purpose of developing Adair county. A number of our citizens met with them, all being favorably impressed with their presentation of the project, which may prove of inestimable value to this county. Messrs. Weeks and Kemper are satisfied that there is oil in Adair county, and that if proper drilling is done, it will be found in paying quantities.

They informed The News that certain capitalists in Detroit, Mich., have agreed to put $75,000 in the development, provided local men will take an interest and help push the enterprise to a successful conclusion.

This is a day in which big money is made, but it takes capital to make money. Therefore, there will have to be an outlay in order to reach a big haul.

If the judgment of oil speculators is correct, and there have been many from a distance here, all expressing that the formations in Adair county strongly indicated oil, we hope that a local company will be organized and the county developed. Hidden wealth should be brought to the surface, as more wealth is very much needed, more so than ever before known in the history of the country. Messrs. Weeks and Kemper are our neighbors, and they come to Columbia highly recommended.

The name of the corporation will be the Trico Oil and Refining Company. Place of business, Columbia, Ky.

Inter-Church Movement.

Baltimore, Dec. 12.—The immediate necessity of organization of the scattered religious forces of the Protestant and Protestant Episcopal denominations throughout the United States so that they may compete successfully with the work of other denominations, was urged by Dr. E. Eard Taylor of New York, general manager of the Inter-Church World Movement, at the Federal Council of Churches which continued its session here today.

Dr. Taylor declared that if an organization were not effected at once, the consequences would prove little short of disastrous. The speaker told of the foreign work done by other denominations. He said that vast fields must yet be covered and it was for the Protestant forces to see that they were worked and gone over thoroughly.

Red Cross Seals Campaign Starts.

Sales of the first six days of the Red Cross Christmas Seals have not been up to the mark set by the promoters of the sale, which include every public health agency in Kentucky. The State Board of Health, the Kentucky Tuberculosis Association, the Red Cross, the Public Health Nursing Associations in all parts of the state, and the County Tuberculosis Associations.

Many stamps have been sold in the intensive campaign in Northern Kentucky, where W. C. Ryerson, a newspaper live wire, is chairman. In Western Kentucky and in Central Kentucky, too, reports show that many seals have been sold, but not enough to make the state's quota unless they are considerably increased.

In Lexington the school children have sold their quotas and have sent in requisitions for more Seals. Major Ernest B. Ellis, who is Assisting Chairman J. A. Goodson there, offered prizes of $100 for the best seals salesmen among the children, and the very first day the school quota was all sold.

It is hoped to finish the campaign this week, but if necessary it will be continued until the quota of $130,660 is raised. Many more seals are expected to be sold this week.

Old Problems Up to New Governor.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 6.—With a new Governor in charge of affairs in Kentucky the coming week he will find there is one old problem left over from former administration with which he will have to wrestle, if Kentucky is to take her place in the forefront of American Commonwealth where she belongs. That is the century-old problem of stopping the ravages of tuberculosis, the white plague, which last year took a toll of 4,000 lives in Kentucky, entailing an economic loss of millions of dollars.

Edwin P. Morrow enters upon the duties of his office with opportunities that have been vouchsafed to but few Governors of old Kentucky. The state debt and its handling, the economy of administration he has promised and which the State must practice to get to a business basis, the elimination of every office for which there is not a positive need—all these must be met by the able and ambitious young executive the people have chosen as their Governor, aided by a legislature which will be very much inclined to follow his lead in any matter for the betterment of the state, though the state is not controlled by his party. It is said, however, that it will not hamper Mr. Morrow in the carrying out of any constructive policy but, on the other hand, will co-operate with him in his avowed purpose of placing Kentucky in a foremost position among the States.

The public health problem of Kentucky is one of the most important the new administration will face. Kentucky has some good health laws, enacted by the votes of Democrats and Republicans, which have done much within the past few years to lessen the ravages of tuberculosis, which medical experience has demonstrated to be not only a curable but a preventable disease. The people are aiding at this time in raising a fund of $130,000 with which to back up the Kentucky Tuberculosis Association in an educational campaign to prevent the spread of the disease from the 30,000 now afflicted with it in Kentucky to their families and others. This fund is being raised by the sale of Red Cross Christmas Seals, which cost a cent apiece and which are used to stamp packages gifts and letters during the Holidays Season. All who are interested in ridding Kentucky of the plague ought to buy these stamps liberally. A few cents from some and a few dollars from others and the problem is solved.

A town always prospers best when the people are all united to help one another. When merchants are willing to live and let live; when every business man shows his faith in the city or town in which he lives by sticking to and helping all in his power every legitimate enterprise in the town, and following the invariable rule of getting everything he needs at home, even though he can temporarily do better elsewhere. There is the greatest possible strength in union of sentiment and union of action. If there are any circumstances in the world where reciprocity is valued it is at home. The merchant is dependent on the farmer. The farmer upon the merchant and mechanic. There is no such thing as success without co-operation, and where this exists there is the greatest prosperity.

EXPECT TO COLLECT SUM OF $53,000,000

SOUTHERN METHODISTS OUTLINE PLANS FOR HANDLING GREAT CENTENARY FUND.

Organization Will Collect Largest Amount Ever Handled By Any Religious Denomination Anywhere.

The Centenary Commission of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, has announced its plan for collecting the $53,000,000.00 which was pledged for the missionary work of the church in the recent eight-day drive. The plan was prepared and will be directed by Colonel John E. Edgerton, of Tennessee, the general centenary treasurer and the director of the department of finance for the Centenary Commission.

Colonel Edgerton is a well known business man. He is president and manager of the Lebanon Woolen Mills, president of the Tennessee State Manufacturers Association, and during the war he was a member of the executive committee of the war industry board appointed by President Wilson.

"Our slogan is no shrinkage, but an increase," said Colonel Edgerton recently. "Just as the Southern Methodist church has surpassed all records in securing pledges for benevolent purposes and has raised the largest sum ever given to any church at one time in the history of the world, so do we expect to set a new record in the collection of these pledges."

An Extensive Organization.

The organization through which these pledges will be collected has four centers of responsibility. The first is a general finance commission with headquarters at Nashville, headed by Colonel Edgerton. This commission has prepared the standard plan and will direct the entire movement, handing down to the various bodies throughout the church detailed plans for their guidance.

There will also be a conference cabinet in each annual conference of the church, about forty in number. These conference cabinets will be composed of the Conference Missionary Secretary, Conference Campaign Director, the Lay leader, and the Conference Centenary Treasurer. Each of these officials have certain specific duties, and will direct the work of collecting all the pledges in each annual conference.

In each of the four hundred districts of the church there is a similar cabinet composed of the Presiding Elders, the Lay leaders, Campaign Directors and the Chairman of the Methodist Minute Men. The Conference Missionary Secretary is an ex-officio member of all district cabinets. The work of collecting in the districts will be supervised by this district cabinet.

Twenty Thousand Churches.

In each of the 20,000 local churches there will be local cabinets composed of the pastor, the centenary treasurer, the campaign director, the lay leader, the chairman of the minute men, the Sunday school superintendent and the president of the Woman's Missionary Society. This cabinet will do all the actual work of collecting the individual pledges.

The persons who made subscriptions will be divided into lists of twenty-five and the lists will be placed in charge of a certain member of the church cabinet who will collect all pledges as they come due.

One feature of the standard plan is that the local church will be responsible for collecting the full amount of its subscription. If any subscriber dies or meets with misfortune such as to render it impossible for him to pay his pledge, it will be the duty of the church cabinet to secure another person to take the place of the one thus become delinquent.

It is also proposed that every new member who comes into the church shall also be asked to make a contribution to the Centenary fund.

The Centenary fund of $53,000,000 will be used for the church in an extension of its missionary work throughout the world. Several millions will be spent in the devastated regions of France, Belgium, Poland and Russia. Other millions will go to the seven foreign fields occupied by the church—Mexico, Brazil, Cuba, Africa, China, Japan and Korea. Other millions will be spent in the industrial sections of the great cities, in the mountains, among the immigrants, the negroes and the Indians, and in building churches in the missionary territory of the United States.

RED CROSS ANNOUNCES ITS ANNUAL CAMPAIGN FOR FUNDS AND MEMBERS

TO carry out its war-time obligations in countries overseas and to launch its peace program at home, the American Red Cross will conduct its annual campaign for members and funds between November 3 and November 11, Armistice Day. Fifteen million dollars is the national quota, asked in addition to 1,920 members.

MacKenzie R. Todd has been appointed campaign manager for Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky, the three states of the Lake Division, by D. C. Dougherty, acting manager of the Division. Mr. Todd is now in Cleveland working on plans for the drive at the general campaign headquarters.

Mr. Todd has appointed campaign managers for the division—R. F. Grant, Ohio State Manager; Clarence Stanley, Indiana State Manager, and John R. Downing, Kentucky State Manager.

EXECUTIVES DETAIL PLANS AND OBLIGATIONS OF THE PEACE TIME RED CROSS

ACTING Lake Division Manager D. C. Dougherty calls attention to the fact that Congress recently prolonged the responsibilities of the Red Cross abroad when it authorized the transfer to the Red Cross of such medical and surgical supplies and supplementary and dietary foodstuff now in Europe as are not needed by the army abroad or at home. These the Red Cross is to administer to relieve and supply the pressing needs of the countries involved in the war.

While many Americans may believe that Red Cross foreign obligations are at an end, Dr. Livingston Farrand, chairman of the central committee of the American Red Cross, calls attention to the fact that our Allies suffered far more hardships with war than did we and that we have incurred obligations which honor demands shall be discharged, and, furthermore, the vast territory of the far east, cut off from aid during the war, has looked to America since the cessation of hostilities.

The Red Cross is now turning its attention to home needs and has worked out a program covering home service, nursing, preparation for disaster relief and a Junior Membership "Service to Americans" will be a Red Cross slogan henceforth.

"Service to Americans" will be the Red Cross slogan henceforth.

There may be a great deal of talk about the man higher up, but he hasn't half the following of the woman higher up. She arouses wide publicity everytime she makes a drive—in a new limousine. When she lectures on the second maid, or Parisian models, everyone votes unanimously without the trouble of amendment. Her philanthropies are so well directed that the proceeds actually exceed the expenses of the campaign, often by a small margin it is true. This lady does not have to wait for the fame of a belated marble memorial. Her supporters claim the tribute of making her their living model, in hope that they may outstrip, her some day. Oh, well, the man higher up is often a scoundrel. What about the woman?

Speed The Day!

An electric vaporizer which takes the place of both spark plug and carburetor in automobile gas engines, has just been tried out in Rome. A Buick engine equipped with the device made 63 miles on one gallon of gasoline, while a Ford, similarly equipped, made 90 miles with one gallon. The inventor, Clyde B White, has sold the patent rights to a Buffalo concern for $35,000 cash, $20,000 in stock and a royalty of $500 a month.

My Soldier Boy

[BY ELBERT WOOTEN.]

I've raised my boy to be a soldier,
He is not too proud to fight!
For country, peace and honor,
In the battle for the right.
May the God of battle spare him!
While he is in this awful fight!
For he is fighting for his Freedom,
And for his own dear country's right.
Should our land be purged with Germans?
Must our days be turned to night?
Should our homes be full of sorrows?
Would that be our hearts delight?
Should he fall beside his comrade,
And our eyes dimmed with light,
We will know he did his duty,
For he was a soldier for the right.
Yes, we know he did his duty,
For they came out all right.
Now, the Germans have been whipped
And we have our hearts delight.
Now let little William Hohenzollern,
Go down in history as the wrong,
For he is the only man in the world,
That is called the man of iron.

Sugar Shamefully high.

As the war-time restrictions are being removed by the Government from various necessary articles, the prices are sky-rock-eting. The latest evidence of this fact is shown in the price of the sugar now reaching the market. During the war sugar was as scarce as it is today, and yet the Government required it to be retailed for 11 cents and 12 cents, fixing the merchants margin of profit at 1 cent to 2 cents, which, it was stated, was fair. Sugar from Louisiana is now reaching the market and the merchants who buy it are being compelled to pay around 21 cents per pound for it. Few of those handling it are fixing their margin of profit at 1 cent or 2 cents, but are offering it all the way from 25 cents to 30 cents. it is said. Eastern sugar admitted to be of a much superior quality, continues to be sold at 12 cents retail, but little of it is on the market. The difference in price is said to be due to the fact that Kentucky has been placed in the New Orleans distributing district and must secure its supply from Louisiana, and that the Government has removed its restrictions on sugar refined in the South.

RACING ENCOURAGED ABROAD

Nations Who Bore Brunt of Conflict Maintained the Sport as Much as Possible as Matter of Sound Policy in its Relation to National Defense.

At no time in the course of the last five years, not even while the great war was at its height, did the Central Empires stop the racing of thoroughbred horses. The great tracks at Hamburg, Buda Pest, Vienna and Berlin were the scenes of brilliant gatherings, even when the Grand Duke Nicholas was threatening East Prussia, with invasion and Krenshof was on the edge of the plains of Hungary with his wild Cossack riders. At no time during the course of the great war were American and English trainers and jockeys, who had been caught by the declaration of war in Germany and Austria-Hungary and were unable to obtain passports, interned. They were permitted by governments their governments were seeking to destroy to pursue their accustomed callings unmolested and unrestrained.

To a certain extent racing was curtailed in Great Britain during the first two years of the great war. The use of the famous Epsom Downs course as a resting place for convalescing soldiers necessitated the running of the famous British Derby at Newmarket in 1914, 1915, 1916, 1917 and 1918. The preoccupation of the sportsmen of Great Britain in the business of war caused them, to a certain extent, to neglect the thoroughbred sales of 1915, 1916 and 1917, and Americans were enabled to slip in and buy up a lot of first-class stallions and mares with which to enrich the American thoroughbred industry.

France Alone Stops Racing.

Of the great nations participating in the great war, France alone felt the necessity of stopping horse racing. Threatened with utter destruction in a flood of Teutonic barbarism, France had to send to the fighting lines on the Marne, the Somme, the Aisne about Verdun, in the Vosges, every man, Frenchman capable of bearing arms. Back of the fighting lines she had to mobilize the elderly men with the women and children for the imperative work of making munitions. Upon France alone fell the burden of resisting the German tide for upward of two years. Throughout the course of the war speed tests were held at the great French tracks, but not as public spectacles. But there was no letting down of the bars as regards the exportation from France of thoroughbred blood any time during the war. As a special consideration citizens of the United States, a country from which the French, from the very beginning of the war, were drawing enormous quantities of military material, who had thoroughbred studs in France, such men as John Sanford, of Amsterdam, Major August Belmont, Joseph E. Widener and Thomas P. Thorne, were permitted, when transportation was available, to ship to the United States a limited number of thoroughbred yearlings. No matured thoroughbred stallions or mares were allowed to leave the country, whether their owners were Frenchmen or outsiders.

With the signing of the armistice France and England resumed racing with characteristic enthusiasm. The attendance at the race tracks about Paris has been greater this season than in any for the period of half a dozen years preceding the outbreak of the great war. The crowds that witnessed the running of the Derby, the Oaks, the Ascot Gold Cup, the Leger, etc., in Great Britain, were greater by the thousands than the greatest of ante-bellum race track gatherings.

Sport Encouraged in Europe.

In France and Great Britain the patronage of horse racing, by the public, has the highest government encouragement now as the support of racing had in Germany and Austria-Hungary even through the dark months when human beings were finding it difficult to obtain nourishing food. France and England recognize today as Germany and Austria-Hungary have for many days the indispensibility of thoroughbred blood to national defense and necessity of thoroughbred horse racing for the maintenance at its highest efficiency of thoroughbred blood.

For upward of seventy years previous to the beginning of the great war the military governments of continental Europe had been maintaining thoroughbred studs for the production of military horses, an earlier century of experimentation having demonstrated to the satisfaction of experts that it was the horse that boasted of the greatest proportion of thoroughbred blood that showed the highest efficiency in military service, whether as a trooper's mount, an artillery horse or a part of the transport service. The great war had not progressed two years before British and French specialists discovered that the life of the pure thoroughbred under the grueling conditions of war, independently of casualties, was twenty-five days, while that of the three-quarter bred was 20 to 22, of the half bred 17, of the trotter 14 and of the lesser breeds of horses of no particular breed 5 to 7.

English Learn Their Lesson.

Previous to the war of the nations the British government had left the production of horses for the army to private enterprise. The British had merely muddled along, as is their habit in most things. The difficulty the war office experienced in equipping with suitable horses the cavalry, transport and artillery services of the tremendous armies that were being assembled in France in 1916 and 1917, under Haig, convinced the rulers of the British Empire that the old haphazard scheme would not answer in future. The British Parliament was therefore constrained to accept the 1917 Major Hall Walker's generous offer of his entire thoroughbred stud as the nucleus of a great Imperial Military Horse Breeding establishment and to employ Lord Lonsdale to manage and race the produce of that establishment on the tracks of Great Britain for purposes of elimination as the Imperial German government had employed various scions of German royalty to race the produce of the national studs of Graditz and Trecken for thirty-five or forty years before the outbreak of the great war.

The munificence of Major Walker's gift to his country will be understood when it is realized that his stud had been taxed on a valuation of upward of $5,000,000. Now that the war is over Parliament is beginning to appropriate vast sums annually for the maintenance of this Imperial horse breeding establishment after the manner such establishments had been maintained in France, Germany, Austria-Hungary and Italy for half a century before the German invasion of Belgium. To promote the quick production of quantities of horses of thoroughbred, three-quarterbred and half bred types, this establishment is preparing to give direct support to the Canadian National Bureau of Breeding, which was established some seven or eight years prior to 1914, and which supplied the Canadian and British forces with thousands of splendid half breeds, and to create subsidiary branches in Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and India.—Advt.

The Greed For Gold.

Millions of men are seeking to secure a livelihood by exploiting other men. Great fortunes on paper are being built up and superimposed on others. Things as empty as holes in the ground, the forth or the sea and as air pockets in the heavens and the caverns in Swiss cheese are made the bases of issues of capital stock, and the stock is traded in just as long as one man who has bought it is able to sell it to another man with the inducement that he later can sell.

Since the war corporations and partnerships capitalized in billions have been formed for the purpose of selling nothing for something.

Enterprises that ought to be dead and buried are yielding dividends. These methods are from the top to the bottom.

Millions of men want to work just as little as they can and get more than they formerly did for greater effort.

Our industrial relation system has dropped into a scheme of holdup.

Along with this amazing lack of desire to labor is an astounding extravagance.

While money is cheap, people are throwing it away as if it were rotten.

A traveler in Germany tells of the extravagance in that country that is based upon despair. Men and women are indulging in the wildest expenditures and debaucheries, eager to get away with the cheap money they have.

Those who made great fortunes out of the war are seeking to get rid of them because they feel that soon these fortunes will be confiscated.

The Germans are indulging in the most expensive temporary luxurious is an effort to beat the French, English and Belgians out of their war indemnity.

They see no use in trying to save anything that will later be taxed for the benefit of their ancient enemies.

In France and England the people are tempted to get rid of much of their profits because they feel that the government will claim what they have on hand when the tax gatherer comes.

It does look as if enormous taxes would make for saving, but the opposite is the effect in America. The cheap dollar is one of the causes of our recklessness. If a dollar is only 50 cents some reason that then it is worth nothing.

Why attempt to reduce expenditures if the surplus accumulated must go in a tax report to the government?

Whatever brought it about, it is a fact that there is less desire for work and more desire to spend than at any other period within the recollection of men who know people from experience and tradition.

In this extravagance all are guilty. The churches are reaching out for millions and millions of dollars. We sometimes wonder if they need it all.

The philanthropic institutions are calling for money, and more money, and we some times wonder what they do with it. Every charity is insistent for more.

Money and more money men think will cure all the ills and all the diseases that afflict the spirit and the body of men.

The nations, states, counties and cities, corporations, partnerships and individuals are spending beyond any hitherto conceived budget. There are cheap things in life, but nobody wants them. The vulgar rich and the vulgar poor want nothing cheap

When Alvin York, the war's greatest hero, was being passed around from one "affair" to another and being overwhelmed with attention and adulation many people feared that there might be enough of flattery and flummery to turn his head and that he might be spoiled, as so many men have been, by too much notoriety. It is good to know that he came through all right. For the man who could turn down all sorts of big money offers to appear in vaudeville and the movies and go back home to found a school for his own people is all right. Alvin York is more a hero today than ever before. For he has demon-

BAPTISTS PLAN RECONSTRUCTION PROGRAM

BODY CHARGED WITH DUTY OF OUTLINING HOW 75 MILLION CAMPAIGN CAN PROMOTE THAT TASK REACHES FIELD—DR. LOVE OUTLINES THE NEED AND ISSUES CALL

DR. J. F. LOVE
SECRETARY
MISSION BOARD

DR. Z. T. CODY
EDITOR
BAPTIST
COURIER

REV. EVERETT GILL
MISSIONARY AT ROME

To make a general survey of the economic, social and religious conditions in Europe with a view to recommending to the Baptists of the South where and how they can aid most effectively in the reconstruction of that continent through the Baptist 75 Million Campaign, a commission, composed of Dr. J. F. Love, secretary of the Foreign Mission Board at Richmond, Va.; Dr. Z. T. Cody, editor Baptist Courier, Greenville, S. C., and Rev. Everett Gill, missionary at Rome, Italy, who is returning after a leave of absence in this country, and who will serve as guide and interpreter to the other members, is now in England for a conference with the Baptists of Great Britain and will go from there for an inspection of France and Belgium.

Another brief conference will be held with the Baptists of Switzerland, after which a trip will be made through Italy and a survey of the new republic of Czechoslovakia conducted. From Prague, capital of Bohemia, the commission will go into such parts of Russia as are open, and the foreign trip will be concluded with an inspection of Palestine, where the missionary work formerly done in Syria, Persia and Galilee by the Illinois Baptist Association has been turned over to the Foreign Mission Board.

There are approximately 4,250 Baptist churches in Europe today, with 3,000 pastors and missionaries and 566,800 church members, it is announced by the headquarters of the Baptist 75 Million Campaign, and a considerable sum from this campaign will go toward succoring needy families of Baptists and others in the war-torn regions as well as in the propagation of the gospel and the establishment of Christian institutions there, it is announced.

Before sailing on the Adriatic on his European mission, Dr. Love made the following statement outlining the purpose of the commission:

"When the call came to help save, promote and secure democracy in Europe there came a louder call to help save, promote and secure evangelical Christianity in Europe. That which alone will now preserve and perfect the democracy for which brave men have died on the battlefield of Europe is the Christianity of the New Testament. Southern Baptists can no longer profess New Testament Christianity and decline a challenge like that which is now presented to them to bear witness to their faith among the peoples of Europe. Our people never before faced such a challenge and such a responsibility.

"Of course we can not go to the men and women of Europe who have been stripped of earthly fortune and reduced to direct necessity with a message of Christian love and brotherhood if we decline in our abundance to carry some substantial pledge of our love and compassion. Mothers will not be able to stay the crying of their little ones to hear us preach if we decline to practice the gospel of compassion and feed these little ones and build fires at which they can during the coming winter warm their frosted toes. Southern Baptists are under the most solemn obligation to help relieve the want and suffering of Europe. But if there were no reconstruction work in Europe, Southern Baptists have motives numerous enough and strong enough to compel them to make a complete success of the Baptist 75 Million Campaign. I would therefore, as my parting word to my brothers and sisters of the South, implore them to give themselves to this campaign and carry it to a triumphant conclusion during Victory Week, November 30-December 7."

TEACH LOYALTY TO FOREIGNERS

FORD ENGLISH SCHOOLS INCULCATE PRINCIPLES OF PURE AMERICANISM IN STUDENTS.

TRIAL DRAWING TO A CLOSE

Attorneys Begin Final Arguments After Ford Counsel Presents Dramatic Testimony On Educational Work.

Mt. Clemens, Mich.—Henry Ford's counsel kept until the final day on which testimony was presented, the strongest arguments in their possession. Not until the trial was within a few hours of its close did they bring to the witness stand Clinton C. DeWitt, superintendent of the Ford English school.

"Mr. Ford," said the witness, "was of the opinion that you could not successfully put over one idea while there were 52 languages spoken in the factory, so to promote that one idea, which was and is Americanism, he insisted that every workman must learn to speak the 'American'—not the English—language."

"There were 3,000 students in the school before the United States entered the war and the factory was practically turned over to government work."

Sample lessons were read by the witness. Parts are given as follows: "Every good American loves and respects the United States flag."

"Our flag stands for liberty, justice and peace."

"Its colors are red, white and blue. 'The red stands for love, the white stands for purity, the blue stands for truth.'"

"American flags," said the witness, "were used profusely in the school room and a silk flag always flutters before an electric fan."

Teach Americanism.

The men are taught that there is no greater title than "American citizen" and are urged to accept the advantages of education offered by this country so that they may fit themselves, through knowledge, to defend their liberties.

Pictures of great Americans adorn the class rooms, special exercises are held on the birthday of great leaders of the nation and finally, when the class graduates, it is presented with souvenir American flags and is given membership in what is known as the "American Club." The Federal and state courts recognize a diploma from the Ford English school as an evidence of adequate preparation for citizenship, it was shown.

Through this testimony counsel sought to bring out that the man who taught 3,000 foreigners to love their adopted country and to respect its flag could scarcely be called an anarchist and that a man who sought every possible method to instill love for the Stars and Stripes in the hearts of those who come to it from foreign shores, could never have made the slanderous statements attributed to him by Tribune counsel.

Mr. Ford, it was shown, loaned all his educational work to the government at the time war broke out. The war department found the methods used in the Ford English school so valuable that they introduced them in all training camps. Henry Ford paid the salaries of the men he loaned to the government for the work.

Closing Arguments Open.

Closing arguments in the case opened the last of the week. Attorney Wm. Lucking led off for Ford counsel. He called attention first to the testimony which showed that The Tribune, hot for intervention in Mexico because it thought such action would lead to conquest or at least to great riches for the United States, had found Henry Ford blocking its path just when its long campaign gave promise of bearing fruit. Thereupon, said the attorney, The Tribune set out to destroy Mr. Ford's influence, to sweep him out of its path and to still his voice which pleaded for a course which would help the bleeding republic to the south to regain her feet and to strike forth on a new highroad of education and freedom.

Attorney Weymouth Kirkland opened for The Tribune. He declared that what Mr. Ford had done since 1916—when The Tribune called him an anarchist—had nothing whatever to do with the situation as it was when the newspaper stigmatized the manufacturer as an enemy of his country. He did not deny that Mr. Ford had done an immense and valuable work for the government during the war but he claimed that this did not alter the facts as they were before war broke out. Mr. Ford, the attorney insisted, was an anarchist at the time The Tribune described him as such, and the truth he said was sufficient justification for the attack.

Water and the Human Body.

The specific gravity of water and the human body is virtually the same. A body in the water is supported by equal pressure at all points. It is more likely to be at ease than under other circumstances. It is, therefore, more likely that it may move without pain. So cripples are often given their exercise in the water.

Editor News:—

Since making a contribution to your columns, I have changed my fare 280 miles East.

I am now a sojourner in Wilson County N. C., and am principal of a three-teacher school; which position carries a salary of $90 a month for 7 months. This will not develop me into a bloated-bond holder; but may keep the wolf from the door the duration of the term.

This region is level; fertile, and generally, free from rocks.

It produces 8 bbls. of corn, or more than a bale of cotton; or 200 to 1,000 lbs. of tobacco to the acre. As cotton sells at from 35c to 40c a pound and this tobacco at from 90c to $1.35; you can see the granger is on easy street. Nearly everybody rides buzzwagons, and one old negro, a renter, bought a "Ford" so that his boys would not use his "Hudson" too much. Plenty of good white farmers have realized, in this county, $5,000 clear of expenses and negro tenants from $1,500 to $2,500, this year.

The man, Mr. J. R. Mercer, with whom I am boarding, grew 60 acres of tobacco. This Hezeer was at Wilson county seat the other day, and placed $5,000 in a bank, and a negro came up and asked; "Boss, you reckon dey is got room dar for $2,000 of my money?" "Oh, yes," was the answer; and Mr. Mercer called the cashier. "Boss, if I put dis $2,000 in dar will it be dar when I wants it?" "Oh yes," said Mr. Winstead, "You can arrange till no body gets it but you; but in that case we honor no checks." "All right, Boss, now see dat no nigger gits dat but me;" and he left elated with joy that he had money in "white folks' bank," and no man could get it but him.

On Thanksgiving, my host killed abig gobbler worth, at prevailing prices, $10.40, and barbecued a shoat. He has many relatives, as every man has who is worth $60,000, and all were present at feast.

I was reared on dollar turkeys and 7c tobacco, and such prices bewilder me. I can remember when $90 would have been a stupendous price for a rural teacher, and he had no nice office desk nor piano in his room; and no big church bell to ring.

Wilson county has the best school man in N. C., for Supt. of rural and city schools. He is of German extraction, but patriotic to the land of the Stars and Stripes. He has the thorough methodical German characteristics; and has things done right. No evasion of duty on part of teacher, pupils or patron. The daily register keeps behind pupil, teacher and patron; and any foolishness means truant offences and the court.

Defacement or destruction of school property is promptly punished.

Of course he makes enemies; but never multiplies words when people fume and threaten.

He is named Charles L. Coon, and he is as pugnacious as his patronymic implies. At least 100 of the wooly-necked and untutored have threatened his life; but he still lives and looks as belligerent as picture of his great prototype, Martin Luther.

Wishing News a Merry Christmas, I shall ring off.

Melvin L. White.

The Best Way To Kill Your Home Town.

Do you want to know how to kill the town you live in—kill it dead? Here is the recipe:

Buy everthing you need out of town. Don't let a dollar stay here more than thirty minutes; chase it over to some other town:

That will soon close up the stores and the factories and make their employees jobless. It will render business buildings vscant and depreciate all real estate.

It will leave all the doctors, lawyers and professional men without anyone to work on.

It will cut down the city's revenue—no money for improvements.

Grass will grow in the street and moss will cover the doorways of our stores.

Just buy all goods away from home—that's the way to kill a town.

If you want to just half way kill it, buy just half your goods away from home. But, if you want to make this the liveliest burg in the State, just buy everything you need here.

Buy at home; make this a live town.

Giensfork.

Corn gathering is the order of the day in this community.

M. R. Darnell and wife were visiting the latter's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Ethridge Bennett, of this place, last Sunday.

Joe Willis, who has been in Illinois for some time, has returned home.

U. G. Collins, of Ozark, was visiting old friends and neighbors, near here, Thursday and Friday.

Have A Home.

Anybody can buy a house, but a home has to grow about some woman's personality. A house and a home are as different as daylight and darkness. A house may cost a small fortune, may be filled with rare and beautiful rugs, furniture and picture and yet be anything but a home. A house may be plain, simple and inexpensive inside and out and yet be something soft and intangible which is home.

Homeliness cannot be described. No rule can be laid down in black and white which it can be accomplished. It comes when the woman who lives in the house has that peculiar personality which makes her know where to put flowers, how to hang pictures, how to place furniture and last, but by no means least, how to make home appear a setting for herself.

Of course there are rules for the combination of colors, there are fixed laws about draperies and there are reasons for art and beauty, but a woman's deft fingers and woman's discriminating eye are what count. Added to the fingers and the eyes is the ability of the woman to be attractive in a house which is a real home.

Certain-teed saves war labor. It can be laid in less time than any other type of roof; and no skill is required—anyone who will follow the simple directions that come packed in the center of roll can lay it correctly.

The durability and economy of Certain-teed are recognized the world over, as proved by its enormous sale. It is now the standard roof for factories, office buildings, hotels, stores, warehouses, garages, farm buildings, etc.
